WHAT OUR DELEGATES ARE SAYING

“ Fantastic initiation to leadership/ management with some real practical tools to take back and implement in the workplace. Extremely motivating and thought-provoking. Has Given me an insight into how leadership/management skills influence the workplace ”

“ Liquid Learning is more than just another conference - they create an experience of growth and inspiration through real human connection. With a breadth of delegates, interesting session styles, quality content and exceptional venues, these events are a professional and personal investment with true reward. ”

“ Very worthwhile and incredibly valuable. Liquid Learning is excellent. Really flawless, thank you. ”

“ I really enjoyed the content, as well as the breakout activities. It was good to reflect on how those frameworks/ tools relate to me and just hearing the experiences of others. Enjoyed the online experience! ”

EVENT KICK-OFF

10:00 - 10:40

Join Liquid Learning and your chair, Andrej Fredericks, for this opening kick-off session, and start to unpack our conference theme, leading with strength, outline your desired learning outcomes and prepare for two days of incredible speakers, senior leaders, expert deep-dives and unmissable panel discussions!

DEFINE A SUSTAINABLE VISION

CASE STUDY

10:45 - 11:40

Get ready for a thought-provoking deep-dive as Andy outlines a process safety-focused vision for leading New Zealand's energy sector to a low-carbon future. Gain insight into safety over reliability, an alternative to evolving organisational culture, and pave the way to analyse and forecast for long-term results.

Andrew Sibley

General Manager, Innovation & Ventures

Contact EnergyASSETS, FACILITIES & OPERATIONS - THE STRATEGIC LINK

INTERVIEW

11:55 - 12:55

The day-to-day operations and responsibilities in assets and facilities are vastly similar. Asset structure should align to the overarching facility objectives, providing clarity to organisational asset management priorities and goals, as well as a clear direction on ways to achieve them. This process is critical, and it lays the foundation for forecasting future asset plans. In this strategically focused discussion, we will cover the link between the roles and why working together will contribute to optimising operational performance, minimising whole life-cycle costs and support an organisation's corporate goals.

Ian Davies

Asset Manager

The Selwyn FoundationA FUTURE PERSPECTIVE ON IMPROVING ASSETS

CASE STUDY

1:00 - 1:50

Ian will present the asset management journey of the NZ Police, a fresh look into improving and forecasting the current practices, processes and systems. He will offer insight into the challenges faced and give advice on reflecting and re-evaluating the performance of existing assets, as well as enhancing acquisition and disposal processes.

Ian Williams

Manager, Property

New Zealand PoliceCHRISTCHURCH INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT'S ASSET MANAGEMENT JOURNEY

CASE STUDY

2:50 - 3:50

Nick will present CIAL's asset management journey. He will offer insight into the challenges faced and give advice on how to drive maximal organisational value.

Nick Flack

Manager, Asset Planning & Maintenance

Christchurch International Airport LimitedPREDICTIVE ANALYTICS FOR INNOVATION

CASE STUDY

3:55 - 4:35

In our final session of the day, Rachel unpacks new approaches to strategising and implementing methodologies with her expertise in developing community infrastructure assets across New Zealand.

Predictive analytics can help organisations forecast future outcomes based on historical data and analytics techniques. Growing volumes and types of data can produce valuable insights into improving asset performance and predicting better outcomes. Advance your mindset and improve your organisational assets through advanced decision making, structured service designs, and detailed outcome frameworks that excel resources.

Rachel Haggerty

Director, Strategy, Planning & Performance

Capital & Coast District Health BoardLAND TRANSPORT ASSET MANAGEMENT DATA STANDARD

CASE STUDY

4:35 - 5:15

The current status of transport asset data in New Zealand is inconsistent and incomplete making it difficult to exchange, compare, benchmark and analyse land transport data. This makes it difficult to unlock the potential of digital engineering across infrastructure types and the asset life-cycle. In this engaging session, Jane will share how the Asset Management Data Standard (AMDS) is improving the land transport information to support better investment decision-making about our roads, highways, bicycles, cycleways, and what sits on and under them.

TEACHING OLD DOGS NEW TRICKS CASE STUDY

10:00 - 10:45

In today's environment where organisations must continually navigate both the rapid pace of innovation and tough regulatory pressures, it is paramount for asset managers to succeed in change management during this age of disruption. This swift pace means that asset managers should not look at change the same way as they have in the past. In this engaging opening keynote prepare to take on the next wave of transformation by adapting and evolving a change management strategy for your assets. Explore new ways to influence from the side and change crucial plans based on the circumstances, while still sticking to your guns.

Lisa Drysdale
Team Leader, Asset Management,
Integrated Catchment Management
Waikato Regional Council

BEYOND THE TECHNICAL CASE STUDY

10:50 - 11:50

It is crucial for asset managers to be equipped with non-technical skills. Explore how to integrate technical skills with non-technical capabilities and see asset management from a different perspective.

Peter Kohler Founder and Director Capability Partners Asset Management

FORECASTING ASSET LIFE-CYCLES AND RISK CASE STUDY

12:05 - 1:05

A shared vision, strategy and action plan is the foundation for a successful life-cycle asset management program. Join Peter as he draws on his career with NZDF as a General Manager in Property, through an integrated approach to optimising the life-cycle of your assets through planning, analysis and timely execution. Reach a consensus on business objectives, prepare a plan for successful program implementation, and prioritise addressing risks to achieve a sustainable forecast of assets.

Peter Cunningham
Head of Property, Facilities & Security
Te Papa Museum

IMPLEMENTING A CUSTOMER-FOCUSED STRATEGY EXPERT COMMENTARY

1:10 - 2:00

A practical change management strategy enables a smooth transition for assets and facilitates faster adoption of newly implemented systems. As the demand for delivering a superior customer experience increases, it is crucial to develop and design a strategy that reflects this. Creating and refining an emergent change strategy ensures a well-ordered transition, engaging stakeholders and establishing the language of records and information across all divisions. Build a business case for your asset strategies while demonstrating the linkage between asset performance and operational efficiency.

Leendert Van Ginkel Independent Asset Management Consultant Vanginkel Partners

ASSET MANAGEMENT TAKES CENTRE STAGE PANEL

3:00 - 4:00

Given the benefits of successful asset management and the multiple frameworks available, why do asset management programs fail? Asset management requires a well-organised, detailed approach. Our panel of asset leaders will discuss the systematic and consistent focus on asset challenges through strategic planning, resilience, and provide a glimpse into forecasting the future.

LOOKING BACK & STEPPING FORWARD ROUNDTABLE

5:10 - 5:30

Predicting the future of asset management is a tricky task, and in a volatile environment, the process becomes even more challenging. Technology advancements complicate the process as well, and asset managers recognise change as the only constant. So what are some trends managers are following to see where this field is headed?

This interactive roundtable is an opportunity to reflect on the ideas, strategies and tools discussed over the last two days, and how to transform the newfound knowledge into a strategic asset mindset for the future.
